Original Building

Today

Over the years this 19th century building has changed from a miner's children village school, folk club through to the community centre you see today but the still retains the original features.

Bought for the community in 1946 the centre is still run by volunteers providing a venue for clubs/societies and educational courses.

Musical Events

Today's "Celidhs

The centres 70's and 80's "Folk Centre" musical heritage also continues with regular events by the Poynton "Ceilidhs" and the "Centre Sessions".

Social Events

Today's Open Day

Social events have also been a common theme through the years with the centre used as a venue for local weddings, birthdays or reunions.

Art & Drafts

For a number of years the centre has been a venue for different groups for drawing, painting, textiles art, textiles and embroidery for beginners and for the more advanced.

Specialised workshops are also held.

Today

Education

The centre also has close links with the local College (Macclesfield) providing a local learning venue on:

- Languages (Spanish & French).
- Dance (Zumba, Keep Fit & Yoga).
- IT.
- Digital Photography.

Macclesfield College

Special Events

This 3 day model railway event, organised by Mark Henshaw, included 10 railway layouts from a number of local and dedicated enthusiasts.

Over 300 people, of all ages, visited the exhibition from enthusiast to families with an interest in seeing 1st class models and layouts.

We hope everyone had a good time and will come back to see the next "COMM-RAIL" exhibition in December 2012.

The Macclesfield Light Orchestra, an amateur orchestra of 30 years' standing, is not-for-profit organisation run entirely by volunteers.

The orchestra, conducted by Ian Mackintosh, played a wide range of music

The Mayor and Mayoress of Poynton and other local people enjoyed over 2 hours of music from musicians playing the piano, violin, viola, cello, clarinet, oboe, saxophone, flute, trombone, horn and trumpet.
